PREPARATION & MICROBIOLOGICAL CHARACTERISTICS

Commercially Sterile
This product has been prepared from fresh, sound pods of the Capsicum annum pepper plant. After roasting, the pods are mechanically scrubbed to remove the charred peel and broken open to remove the seeds and core. It has been processed via controlled acidification and a pasteurizing heat process sufficient to destroy all vegetative cells and all other microorganisms capable of reproducing in the product under normal (or accepted) storage, distribution and usage conditions.
